UPSCALE SKI RETREAT FEATURES NATIONAL MINISTERS AND INDUSTRY LEADERS
Weekend Hosted by Gerard Henry of Black Entertainment Television

Washington, D.C. (October 19, 2005)— Skiing, snowboarding and spa treatments are typical main attractions of ski retreats, but this weekend getaway offered by Spiritually Speaking, an organization based on Christian principles that delivers networking and community events, has a five-star lineup that features far more than slopes and scenery.

Gerard Henry, host of Black Entertainment Television's gospel music show, "Lift Every Voice," will host Spiritually Speaking's annual Winter Ski Retreat, February 17-20, 2006, at Wintergreen Resort and Spa in Wintergreen, VA.

Private condo accommodations, Welcome Dinner Power Meet and Greet, catered house parties, NBA All-Star Game Party, invaluable exchanges and introductions to strengthen personal and business networks and Sunday Brunch with internationally acclaimed guest speaker, Reverend Tony Lee of Ebenezer AME Church in Maryland, aren't the only things that distinguish this high-quality event from other ski weekends.

Heaven 1580's on-air personality, Prince DaJour, and Vikki Johnson, voice of the radio station's "I'm Every Woman" daily commentary, along with several national ministers and business leaders will lead educational sessions focusing on finance, marriage, purpose, relationships and entrepreneurship.

Black Wealth Network (BWNONLINE.com), an online investing portal that helps African Americans create wealth, will sponsor a financial planning workshop, "Get Your House in Order: Privileges and Pitfalls of Financial Stewardship," facilitated by Toussaint D. Gaskins, Wall Street *E, Inc.

HiyaahPower.com, an online conduit of information to empower women, will present an Author Expo, featuring readings from 100 Words of Wisdom for Women and other accomplished authors whose literary works have received national acclaim.

According to Spiritually Speaking's founder, Towan Isom, the Winter Ski Retreat is a vacation experience designed for married couples as well as single people who want to propel their lives to the next level of spiritual, personal and financial success.

"There are thousands of social events competing for your time and money, but this weekend retreat delivers immeasurable value and quality. Every activity is designed to help our guests renew their minds, remember their visions, redefine success and reclaim their destinies," says Isom.

ABOUT SPIRITUALLY SPEAKING

Spiritually Speaking fosters an environment that is conducive to the success of a spiritual lifestyle. Our events satisfy the needs of Christians trying to find entertainment venues that aren't boring and corny. Singles as well as married couples are able to have a good time networking and socializing in a relaxed atmosphere that doesn't compromise their spiritual values.
